Program Cost above reflects undergraduate and graduate program cost.

PROGRAM COST INCLUDES: Tuition, administrative fees, most meals, housing, excursions, in-country transportation and international medical insurance

PROGRAM COST DOES NOT INCLUDE: Round-trip airfare to host country, some meals, major medical insurance, Rutgers Summer Session student fee ($162), and all personal expenses

The program deposit of $1500 is due within 2 weeks of acceptance into the program to secure your spot. Shortly after your term bill is released, your deposit will be credited to your Rutgers student account and you will be responsible for any remaining payments (less any financial aid or scholarship[#]).

The above estimated total expenses are intended to help plan and prepare for the program. Total expenses will vary by student and are subject to change depending on currency fluctuation, past-participant reports, university recommendations, and personal spending habits. Not all students will incur all the expenses above.

If you will be awarded scholarships, grants, or financial aid through Rutgers, these awards will be posted to your student account according to the normal disbursement schedule after you confirm your attendance. Some non-billable items may be due prior to the release of your semester bill and your financial aid, so students should be prepared to pay these expenses in advance.
